"ONLY A PITCH FORK."

Jean Alexander, The Scotch Lassie, Used It Fatally on a Tory.

During the Revolutionary war there lived about ten miles south of Greensboro, in Guilford county, near where Pleasant Garden on the C. F. & Y. V. railroad is now situated, a brawny scotchman, by the name of John Alexander who was proud to own a daughter Jean, whose affectionate nature and brave heart in those days of trouble and apprehension, had won the admiration of all, who knew her. She was her father's only pet and the idol of his heart. John Alexander was an ardent and devoted Whig who not only advocated independence but was an active soldier in the Whig ranks, who was resisting British tyranny and taxation. He went often on what were called "tours of duty", in that day leaving his wife and Jean in the hands of God for protection and safety. He was a disciple of John Knox and believed in the special care that God exercised personally over those who loved and feared him. Jean was of the same heroic faith and while her sex forbade her to take up arms in behalf of the colonies, she was ever ready to avow her principles and express her detestation of Tories and loyalists. Her mother had imbibed these same principles from her gallant husband and inspired her daughter with them from childhood to womanhood. All three were of heroic mould in this heroic age and were equal to the dangers and emergencies which so often surrounded their pathway in life.

While John was in the camp and field, the wife and daughter tilled the farm, raised the stock and kept the household too. Her Tory neighbors dared not molest them for they knew the attempt would be dangerous and that John would avenge the wrong if they perpetrated it. But there were cowards elsewhere among the Tories who would do a secret and dastardly injury where opportunity offered and they were likely to escape detection. It was such nefarious conduct as this which was soon to test Jean's courage and make her a heroine indeed.

John Alexander had just completed a "tour of military duty" and returned to the vicinity of his home, which he approached in the night time to avoid the vigilance of his Tory enemies, who he was informed, were lying in wait for him. These Tories discovered that he was in his humble home, a log house near by, and determined that they would take his life that night. One "Powell," a noted Tory in the county, was the leader of the band who were to assassinate Alexander. About midnight they stealthily approached the house and were endeavoring to force the door which was barred. Jean with woman's intuition took in the situation at once, grabbed a pitch fork which was kept in the house and for a moment stood on the defensive, but on perceiving in the starlight through an unchinked space between the logs near the door, Powell's portly body and heard his voice directing the assault.

Without a moment's hesitation or awaiting advice she made a vicious thrust through the open crack and plunged the prongs of the fork to their hilt into Powell's body, and then withdrew it, waiting for more game. It was only a moment later, however, that the agonizing scream of pain which Powell gave and his cry to his companions for help, convinced her that the battle was won and that her victim was mortally wounded. Still Jean stood at bay until she heard the retreating groans of Powell, who was being borne away by his comrades.

Softly she opened the door and heard the last agonizing cry from the savage invader of her home. The other Tories were bearing Powell along the ridge, several miles to his home, but the pitchfork had accomplished its deadly work and Powell died at the end of two miles and there his comrades buried him in his infamy and disgrace, killed by a heroic woman who was defending home and family from his dastardly assault.

This ridge is known to this day, in that vicinity, as "Powell's Ridge." It may well be anticipated that no other attempt to capture the old Whig was made.

These are facts and not romance or fiction. This pitchfork was sacredly preserved in the family until John Alexander died—died a free American citizen. At his sale the "bidding" for this fork was lively for its history was well known. Jacob Kennett became the purchaser and it remained on his plantation for many years and finally descended to John C. Kennett, a prominent citizen in that neighborhood, a grandson of Jacob Kennett. John C. Kennett still lives at the "old home place."

WAR DEPARTMENT TROUBLE

Merritt's Demand May Raise a Controversy.

HE IS REGARDED AS IN THE RIGHT

The New Order of the War Department Cuts Off Most of the News.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, May 17—The leading officials in the war department are unwilling to make any statement regarding the refusal of General Merritt to lead the expedition forces to the Philippines unless more regular troops are assigned to his command. It is regarded as not impossible that the matter may be made the occasion of a sharp controversy in the department. No one in an official capacity is prepared to say what action will be taken. There is an undercurrent of criticism in the department this morning concerning Merritt's declaration. The comment is made however that though he should not make remarks publicly he is exactly right in what he said about the character of the force that should be placed at his disposition for the expedition. It is understood that Merritt really wishes to command the expedition to Cuba or to Porto Rico. The sentiment is generally expressed in official circles that the war will last for a year.

SCHEME FAILS.

Key West, May 17—The Spaniards tried an ingenious trick to damage the ships of Commander Watson's blockading fleet yesterday near Havana. Chapman C. Todd, commander of the gunboat Wilmington, learned of the whereabouts of a derelict loaded with car wheels and rails which was drifting apparently deserted. Four shots from the Wilmington were sufficient to sink the dangerous craft.

Dr. Ivey Preached.

A private letter received from Baltimore says that Rev. Dr. Thomas N. Ivey preached a splendid sermon at Mt. Vernon M. E. church on Sunday night, the same pulpit having been occupied at the morning service by Bishop Galloway. Mt. Vernon is one of the largest of the northern Methodist churches. It is safe to say that those who heard Dr. Ivey found his sermon rich and full of meat. He is in the front rank of North Carolina pulpit orators and one of our most eloquent and logical preachers.

The company now numbers 40 men, as many more are expected to volunteer. Much enthusiasm prevails. Others wishing to volunteer are requested to be present Friday night.

To Form a New Company.

Captain Schenck has decided to attempt to form a new company here. At the present rate of mustering in it will require sometime for the second regiment to be filled and the company may be able to get in. With regard to the trouble in the second regiment the Raleigh Post says:

"An impression has gone abroad that the second regiment will not be able to organize. This idea might as well be dispelled. While there are several companies that have not been able to secure the number of men required, it is probable that they will be able to do so. The government gives a company ample opportunity to recruit and be mustered in. Six days are allowed for this purpose."

The headquarters of the second regiment have been changed to the fair grounds because of the lack of tents.

Hunting For the Alarmist.

Up to date the man who rang in the false alarm of fire last Saturday night seems to be dodging the authorities as skillfully as the Cape Verde fleet eludes Sampson. Chief Jos. J. Stone with his entire fleet is hunting for the "gentleman" and was to be unto him when the firemen run across him. Mr. Stone offers ten dollars as prize money to the one effecting the capture.

To Fortify St. Johns.

St. John, N. F., May 16—The government has been advised that owing to complications between Great Britain and France which are likely to result in war and to the constant friction always developing along the French shore of New Foundland, the Imperial authorities intend to fortify St. Johns.

A CASE OF SPANISH JUSTICE

A War Correspondent Gets Nine Years in Prison.

WILMINGTON CRIPPLES GUNBOAT

Important Events Occurring But Even Senators are Not Allowed to See the Dispatches.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Ottawa, May 17—The mystery concerning Freeman Halstead, the young Canadian who were reported to have been seized and shot by the Spaniards, has been solved.

Young Halstead had been sent to Porto Rico as the correspondent of the London Graphic. When the news of his arrest reached Canada his adopted parents at once communicated with Henderson, member of the Dominion parliament, and asked him to bring the matter to the attention of the government. Henderson interviewed Sir Louis Davis. The latter proved sympathetic and cabled the British consul at San Juan for information. Davis yesterday received the following report: "Halstead was arrested for photographing forts here, was tried by court martial and sentenced to nine years imprisonment." Efforts are being made to interest the Imperial authorities in Davis' case with a view to obtaining a mitigation of his sentence.

WILMINGTON CRIPPLES GUNBOAT.

Key West, May 17—A courier left the Cuban coast this morning in an open boat and carried with him messages from General Gomez. He had not proceeded far from the shore before a Spanish gunboat trained its guns on him. The gunboat Wilmington came to the aid of the courier and chased the Spanish boat away. With one shot the American gunners crippled the enemy's vessel.

DISPATCHES KEPT SECRET.

Washington, May 17—Events of great importance are believed to be occurring today. They are of such importance that the administration has declined to allow even the senators to see today's official dispatches.

WILL ATTACK TODAY.

Hong Kong, May 17—It is reported that the insurgents contemplate an attack on Manila today.

SPANISH FAIRY TALE.

Madrid, May 17—A dispatch received in this city from Havana asserts that an American vessel entrusted with the task of removing torpedoes from the harbor of Cabanas was blown up while attempting to remove them this morning. The report further states that all of the crew aboard perished.

IT WAS A SPANISH BOAT.

Key West, May 17—The American vessel, which a report from Madrid states was blown up while attempting to remove torpedoes from the harbor of Cabanas, proves not to be an American vessel at all. The truth about the blowing up proves that a Spanish schooner was blown up off Cardenas by the American gunboat Wilmington.

HIGH LIVING IN HAVANA.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17—Refugees aboard the French steamship Fulton, which recently arrived at this port from Havana, say that war prices, almost equal to famine prices, prevail in Havana. Eggs sell for ten cents apiece, meat is cheap at fifty cents a pound, and flour and corn only be bought at thirty cents a pound. These were the prices when the Fulton left Cuba.

CUBANS JOIN SPAIN'S ARMY.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 17—The Cuban Provisional government has directed its sympathizers living in garrison cities to attempt to evade Blanco's conscription order. This order, it will be remembered, forced into the ranks of volunteers all males whose ages range from fifteen to forty-five. Refugees who have arrived in this city from Havana by the French steamship Fulton report that the Cubans in Havana are joining the volunteers by thousands. Spain is thus arming her enemies who are on the alert and are ready to rise at an opportune moment and strike a telling blow for their freedom from Spanish rule.

WAR VESSEL BLOWN UP.

Madrid, May 17—A despatch from Havana says that a small war vessel has been blown up at Cardenas and seventeen men were killed. The nationality of the vessel is unknown.

DISPATCHES REFUSED.

London, May 17—All of the American cable companies here have instructed their agents to refuse to transmit any dispatches for the Spanish government.

THE NEW BISHOPS

Elected Today at the M. E. General Conference.

Special to the Telegram.

Baltimore, May 17—Dr. Warren Candler, of Georgia, president of Emory College at Oxford, and Dr. H. C. Morrison, of Nashville, Tenn., missionary secretary, were elected bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, at the General Conference here today.

Surveying the New Road.

In accord with the resolution passed by the board of aldermen at their meeting last Friday night in regard to straightening the road beyond the cemetery, City Engineer Richardson yesterday began the preliminary survey of the proposed road. When the work is completed and road graded much will be added to the comfort and pleasure of the travelers of that road. We hope that the work of grading the new road will commence as soon as the surveys are completed.

Historical Edition.

There is now in course of preparation a historical edition of the Church Record, to be issued about June 23. The work is under the management and supervision of J. Norman Willis and will be a very valuable and handsome work. It will contain, besides historical matter pertaining to the M. P. church, a special Greensboro department, which will prove interesting.

Weakens The Eyes.

There is no time of the year when the eyes need to be more carefully protected and assisted than this time through which we are now passing. The system is undergoing a change and the oppressively hot weather is debilitating. In this weakened condition our delicate optic organs have to stand the glare of the bright summer sun and unless the utmost care is exercised they may be permanently injured. If they are troubling you better consult at once the only Eye Specialist in this vicinity.

Why not get Simonton to enjoin that measly squadron?

Meantime Gomez will amuse the Spaniards on his own hook.

The Spanish fleet may be weak in its stick work but its base-running capabilities are of the best.

Schley's men may soon have an excellent opportunity for testing the efficacy of their target practice.

When the biography of the Honorable Johannes Wanamaker comes to be written it will contain a sentence saying: "he ran for governor in 1898."

General Weyler will watch with some interest the attempts of American military governors to employ moral suasion in Cuba and the Philippines.

If Spanish cavalry is so effective against American gunboats off Cuba Roosevelt's rough riders might be sent after that Cape Verde fleet as a dernier resort.

If Americans continue their attempts to land arms for the insurgents and to cut cables the Spanish gunner can no longer explain a miss by complaining that he is short on target practice.

If Spain continues to tug at the coat-tails of the powers for the rest of the war as she has been doing thus far that ornamental part of the diplomatic costume will require a fresh hemming at least once a week.

Even if a good sized canoe called a torpedo boat destroyer is supposed to be waiting for the Harvard to come outside there is no reason for the strategy board to wring its hands. The Harvard is not a torpedo boat.

Spain is said to be greatly alarmed at the proposed Anglo-American alliance. Her fears are quite needless. No alliance could add anything to what America will do to her before the present unpleasantness blows over.

It turns out that the Spaniards at Manila were so sure of capturing Dewey's squadron that the ships had prize crews aboard ready to man American cruisers so soon as they struck their colors. In consequence of that wise bit of forethought the Spanish killed is now placed at 321 and the wounded at 700. So soon a double bow knot is tied in that cable Admiral Montojo will resume the thread of his explanations.

The statement that came from Washington yesterday that President McKinley is tired of appointing silk stocking brigadiers is timely. If Americans are expected to fight without training they should be given trained officers. If a senator has a youthful relative whose chief accomplishments are an unlimited capacity for cigarettes and a certain felicity in aping London lingo he is given a pair of field glasses and a position on somebody's staff and sent to unmuzzle Mars. If even a staff position is too arduous he is placed in the commissary department where his incapacity will leave the tired soldier without his supper. The warmest supporters of Mr. McKinley do not hesitate to sharply criticize his appointments and the American people are being made pretty tolerably tired.

For the benefit of those impatient souls who are inquiring why Sampson has not licked the Spanish squadron out of its bloomin' boots some days ago it should be said that the situation is somewhat peculiar. The American ships that can catch the Spaniards can not whip them and those that can whip the Spaniards can not catch them. Three of the Spanish ships are superior to anything in our navy except the battleships and they are three or four knots faster than the battleships. Hence the hard lot of those anxious for news.

Even for the jack tars, on whom the brunt of the battle falls, there are some humorous incidents. While Commodore Schley's squadron was speeding south a big American merchantman ran across the bows of the Brooklyn. The cruiser flashed her search light, the merchantman "doused the glim," thinking the long-talked-of Spanish squadron was after her, and struck a pace that would have ruptured a blood vessel in the Wilhelm der Grosse. When she has climbed up safely on the African coast the cable will tell wonderful tales of the number and speed of the "hostile squadron."

SAMPSON'S RENDEVOUS.

Movements of His Vessels—The Porter Scrapes a Reef.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, May 16—The United States torpedo boat Porter returned to Cape Haytien this morning having left Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet in the offing. Lieutenant Bennett conferred with the United States consul at Cape Haytien and filed dispatches from the rear admiral. The rendezvous of the fleet is north of Cape Haytien.

The Porter left here at 10 o'clock to rejoin the fleet. While going to Cape Haytien yesterday the Porter scraped a reef but sustained no damage. The destination of the fleet is uncertain.

The store ship Supply was expected to await the Minneapolis at Cape Haytien, and her departure from there is said to be due to a mistake, which probably will be rectified by the Porter's return.

The cruiser Minneapolis is likely to be intercepted with new orders.

A State Historical Society.

The State Historical Society will be organized at Charlotte on the 20th instant at 10 a. m. All who are interested in the matter are invited and requested to be present.

Levi Causey, a most respectable gentleman, who examined it closely at the Alexander sale and afterwards saw Jacob Kennett using it in his meadow. It is a two pronged fork made of wrought iron and is in a good state of preservation. John C. Kennett presented it, a few years ago, to the Guilford Battle Ground Company and it is now in the Battle Ground Museum where it may be seen whenever desired. It may well be said of this Scotch heroine of the Revolution that "She hath done what she could." She needs no nobler epitaph than this. She lived to be 87 years old and was never married. She died at the home of Thomas McCullough, to whom she had conveyed her land for a support during life. All these names and persons are well known in Guilford county.

Does not this brave heroine deserve a monument to her memory? It seems that the "Daughters of the Revolution" could find no more appropriate object on which to bestow their labor than this. Let the monument be raised on the Guilford Battle Ground, near that of "Gillies"; let it be of granite with a bronze plate on which Jean could be represented with her pitchfork in hand ready for battle. It is said that the only monument to a woman, in the United States, is at New Orleans; let North Carolina erect the second. The "Daughters" will receive outside aid if necessary. Two hundred and fifty dollars will procure the monument complete.

Raleigh's Storm.

The Raleigh papers report the most terrific storm of years on Sunday night. Some three inches of rain fell, trees were blown down and much damage was done generally by wind and water. The basements of many houses were flooded, the water in some cases even rising to the second stories of the houses. The electrical display was terrible.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with a gripe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Hero of Gettysburg's Son.

Washington, May 18—Col. George E. Pickett, a son of the famous Confederate General of the same name, called on the president today, accompanied by Gen. James Walker, Col.
Pickett says he has a large regiment, which is ready to be mustered in as soon as their services can be utilized.
In the meantime, he is anxious to secure a staff position and this was the object of his call today. President McKinley was highly pleased with Col. Pickett, and it is not improbable that he will receive an appointment.
Col. Pickett is a graduate of the Vir-

THE ADMIRAL AND THE GEESE.

Did Dewey Once Wear a Paper Cap and Tin Sword?

To the Editor of The Telegram,
Did you when a boy study McGuffy's reader? More than thirty years ago I was reading that excellent book.
For the past few days my mind has been fixed on a bit of poetry contained therein. Here is part of it:

Our captain was as brave a lad
As e'er commission bore;
All brightly gleamed his new tin sword,
A paper cap he wore.

We charged upon a flock of geese,
And put them all to flight,
Except one sturdy gander
Who thought to show us fight.

But ah, we knew a thing or two;
Our captain wheeled the van, (Manila Bay.)
We routed him; we scouted him;
Nor lost a single man.

That boy must have been a Dewey, probably a grand son of the present admiral not unknown to fame. Though it is possible that the boy and he are one and the same. If so, he no longer carries a tin sword nor wears a paper cap; but is still exhibiting his ability to put to flight a flock of geese.

The strong man Sampson is now after the ganders. He is, by-the-way, not the Sampson who takes a nap with his head in the lap of Delilah and gets his hair cut. He is after the Spanish, not with an asinine jaw-bone, but with American lead and powder.

While Uncle Sam's eagle is screaming and soaring in the sky, and her Sampson moving on the waters, it would be well for the Spanish gander to get to his roost. Trojan.

Jonesboro, N. C. May 16.

A Pretty New Hotel.

If there is one thing that interests a traveling man more than the war it is a good hotel. Stopping over in Siler City recently we were shown through the pretty new hotel of Mr. Johnson at that place—the Hotel Chatham.

The good meals served by Mr. Johnson are known and talked of by all who have stopped with him, and with the additional advantage of a new building with large, light and airy rooms only a few steps from the depot it may be reasonably expected that his patronage will increase.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill.,
"Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home as in it we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr.
King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a secret of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

So Tired! So Tired!

Chronic Dyspepsia!

For ten years I had been a severe sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, which was pronounced incurable. I was completely run down, and in the summer season was not able to do anything and spent a great part of the time lying down. I could not touch meat of any kind, or any solid food whatever, as I could not digest it at all and had to live on crackers and light diet. I was very nervous, would have severe nervous spells, and could not get any natural sleep. I was so restless. I suffered all the time from chronic dysentery, which kept me weakened down. That was my condition when I determined as a last resort to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I had tried so many treatments and so many patent medicines without benefit that I had no faith in anything and had almost made up my mind not to try another thing, when Mrs. Person came to my house last April and induced me to try her Remedy. I bought 4 dozen bottles. But no relief whatever until I was on the fourth bottle, when I knew I was getting better. I became stronger, got so I could sleep well and there was no necessity for me to lie down in the day time. I took twenty-two bottles before I stopped. My digestion is now perfect, and I can eat meat, vegetables, and anything else I want, and as much as I want. When I commenced the Remedy I weighed 98 pounds, now I weigh 115 pounds. Dysentery perfectly cured, and it is all owing to Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. It is everything claimed for it.

THE CABLE NOT CUT.

The Detective Turns Up This Morning All Right.

Mr. John E. Redmon called this morning to say that there was not one word of truth in the article in yesterday's Telegram about him and to demand a correction; also a copy of the article in the handwriting of the reporter who brought in the news.

We promised Mr. Redmon to investigate the matter and have done so. We find, as a matter of fact, that Mr. Redmon did offer to unearth gambling dens and blind tigers at the rate of ten dollars apiece and that his offer was refused.

We have no disposition in the world to do any man an injustice, and on further investigation we find that Mr. Redmon was arrested by Officer Scott for assault on a woman with a deadly weapon, that he was tried for this offense before Mayor Nelson and that he was bound over to superior court and that he put up a watch and a bicycle as security. These are the facts as published yesterday in the Telegram.

It seems then that the only indictment "Mr. Redmon" has left against this paper is the statement that he had "cut the cable." In this we were possibly in error and we take pleasure in withdrawing the offensive statement.

The truth of the other matters is vouched for by an officer of the city and by the records of police court.

Some New Points About Dry Goods.

We think it a great mistake to assume that the people are not competent to judge of quality; for we have found the greater portion competent far more than they are given credit for, and are more astute in judgment than sellers often imagine.

But the safest and best plan to acquire a knowledge of quality in merchandise of all kinds is to settle upon some house, the utterances of which you have found to be trustworthy, and study its merchandise and its statements thereabout.

Knowing how far our influence has reached in so short a space of time in this regard, we can point to the education we have given the people in quality. We began our new business by providing quality, making it an object lesson. We tell the truth about quality; honest words about honest facts. We shall always maintain quality, showing that good merchandise is what the people want, what they expect, what they appreciate and what they will buy.

This is the policy we have laid down for this new business, to educate the people to tell quality: to tell it themselves and to advise others; and this season when there is, possibly, a stronger desire than ever to keep the expenses of living down to the lowest minimum, we see the fruits of our zealous endeavors more than compensative, for our new business is constantly increasing along the lines of valid values and vigorous bargain selling.

EDITORIAL.

We have had the cool wet spell in May. We may now expect the summer season to begin shortly, and to continue without interruption.

We do not think there is any reason for dreading the warm weather. There are a great many enjoyments peculiar to the spring and summer, without which life would be exceedingly monotonous. Picnics will soon be on hand.

By the way, have you secured a BICYCLE? The roads will soon be in fine condition for riding. Comfort, pleasure and health demand that you take advantage of the low prices which we are now offering, and supply yourself with a wheel. The Crawford has made a record of which any wheel might well be proud. The price is exceedingly low.

If you wish an Ice Cream Freezer, a refrigerator, or any other summer specialties, do not forget that we are Headquarters.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The above picture is very suggestive. What is more pleasant on the evening of a warm day, than to spray your grass and flowers: and if you should accidentally get the hose turned in the wrong direction, the victim will not suffer so keenly as this would indicate.
